Servpac Incorporated

Statement of CPNI Procedures and Compliance

Servpac Incorporated ("Servpac" or "the Company") does not use or permit access to CPNI to market any telecommunications or non-telecommunications services. Servpac has trained its personnel not to use CPNI for marketing purposes. Should Servpac elect to use CPNI in future marketing efforts, it will follow the applicable rules set forth in 47 CFR Subpart U, including, if necessary, the institution of operational procedures to ensure that notification is provided and customer approval is obtained before CPNI is used or disclosed.

Servpac has put into place processes to safeguard its customers' CPNI from improper use or disclosure by employees; and to discover and protect against attempts by third parties to gain unauthorized access to customer CPNI. The Company maintains all CPNI in a secure server environment with limited access and appropriate firewalls and other protections. The Company has a training process in place for its employees and call center employees regarding the requirements to safeguard CPNI against unauthorized disclosure and has a disciplinary process which includes discipline up to and including termination.

Servpac does not disclose CPNI to any agents, affiliates, joint venture partners or independent contractors, nor does it use CPNI to identify or track customers who call competing providers. The Company has a strict policy prohibiting the disclosure of CPNI to any third parties, unless required to do so by law (e.g., in response to a subpoena).

Servpac maintains a record of all instances where CPNI was disclosed or provided to third parties, or where third parties were allowed access to CPNI.

The Company does not provide call detail information over the telephone

The Company allows customers to obtain call detail information on-line, subject to the following procedures: Passwords are hand delivered to customers during customer training in the use of the Company's services. The password does not use a customer's readily available biographical information or account information. The customer must correctly enter the password if they want to enter into the customer accessible portal. If the customer forgets the password, the Company administrator will reset the password based on authentication information that does not rely on the customer's readily available biographical information or account information.

Servpac does not have any retail locations and therefore does not disclose CPNI in-store.

If a customer's account information is changed, the Company immediately notifies the customer of the change via a voice mail message to the customer number of record, without revealing the changed information or sending the notification to the new account information.

The Company has procedures in place to notify law enforcement in the event of a breach of customers' CPNI and to ensure that the affected customers are not notified of the breach before the time period set forth in the FCC's rules, or, if applicable, when so authorized by law enforcement. Specifically, as soon as practicable, and in no case later than seven business days upon learning of a breach, the company will notify the U.S. Secret Service and the FBI by electronic means, as required by FCC regulations. The company will not notify customers or disclose a breach to the public until seven full business days have passed after notification to the U.S. Secret Service and the FBI, unless it believes there is an extraordinarily urgent need to notify customers before seven days in order to avoid immediate and irreparable harm. In that instance, it will only notify such customers after consultation with the relevant investigating agency and will cooperate with the agency's request to minimize any adverse effects of the customer notification. If the Company receives no response from law enforcement after the seventh full business day, it will promptly proceed to inform the customers whose CPNI was disclosed of the breach. The company will delay notification to customers or the public if requested to do so by the U.S. Secret Service or FBI. Notifications to law enforcement and customers are handled by a designated supervisor level employee responsible for managing the company's CPNI compliance.

Servpac has not taken any actions against data brokers in the last year.

Servpac did not receive any customer complaints about the unauthorized release of CPNI or the unauthorized disclosure of CPNI in calendar year 2012.

Company has not developed any information with respect to the processes pretexters are using to attempt to access CPNI.
